

Welcome to Chestnut Season

In spite of the adverse global situation caused by the pandemic that we are going through, I note that the weather conditions are favorable to Portuguese chestnuts production, therefore I expect a good harvest. Nevertheless, we remain aware for the risks weather conditions, that can change at any moment, and also the presence of Dryocosmus kuriphilus Yasumatsu plague that subsist in the Portuguese production area, however, I still have the expectation that in 2020 we will be have the same excellence and abundance harvest that we had in 2019.
